Testofen Increases Libido

October 27, 2009

By: Scott Welch BAsc (Nutrition), CAAP (Advertising)

A new human clinical study was recently completed in Australia on the well known testosterone-boosting herb “Testofen” which is licensed to supplement companies by Gencor Pacific. Testofen is a proprietary extract of fenugreek. This study evaluated its effect on libido in healthy males. The randomized, double blind, placebo-study tested sexual function, performance and libido levels in 60 healthy males aged between 21 and 50 years during a six week period. Results showed Testofen produced a significant positive change in all parameters of libido, including sexual cognition, sexual arousal, sexual experience and orgasm. Scientists speculate that the effect may be a result of interaction with testosterone via alpha-5 reductase activity. Fusion Bodybuilding’s “ZEUS” product, All Max Nutrition’s “TESTO Fx Hardcore” and Isatori’s “ISA-TEST” products contain Gencor Pacific’s clinically proven Testofen ingredient.

TestoFX also has Testofen as one of it’s actives.

Sorry Steve, you’re right my mistake! All Max Nutrition does indeed have Testofen in their Test Fx Hardcore product. I’ve updated the post to reflect the change.
